What you want from care here

Chiropractic in this office is not a treatment for pain. We adjust to improve motion in the spine and joints so the body can function and heal better. Check what fits how you want to use that.

- ☐ Get moving better through this episode and go
- ☐ Feel better and come back when I need it
- ☐ Stay on a regular maintenance rhythm
- ☐ Help with posture / desk strain
- ☐ Help with sports / work recovery
- ☐ Keep kids adjusted too

Office texts (optional)

- ☐ Yes — text me about closures, hours changes, and the occasional note from Dr. Mike
- ☐ No thanks — I'll check Google, the website, or Facebook

How we work here

You are welcome to stop in for an adjustment anytime and for any reason — as much or as little as you prefer.

If you want a recommendation, mine is the same for everyone: get adjusted every 2–4 weeks, ongoing. Not to treat pain or chase symptoms, but to supplement the movement you are already doing. The daily, active part is yours. An adjustment is the passive part, and it is what I add. The demands on your body never stop, so neither does the upkeep.

What we do here

Chiropractic care in this office is a strategy to keep the spine and other joints moving. An adjustment is a skilled, manual force applied to a joint to improve motion. Better motion helps the body function and heal. We do not treat pain as a disease, promise a medical outcome, or diagnose conditions outside the scope of chiropractic.

Examination

Before an adjustment I may be examined (history, posture, motion, palpation). I can decline any part of the exam or the adjustment at any time.

Benefits I may reasonably expect

Improved joint motion, easier movement, and a body that is better able to adapt and heal. Some people also notice they feel looser or sleep better. Those are possible effects of better motion — not a guarantee and not a treatment claim.

Risks

Most people feel little more than short-term soreness, stiffness, or tiredness after an adjustment, similar to starting a new activity. Less often, an adjustment can aggravate an existing disc, muscle, or joint problem. Rare but serious events have been reported, including fracture, disc injury, nerve irritation, and — with neck adjustment — stroke or other vascular injury. Those events are uncommon. No procedure is risk-free.

What this office does not do

Dorr Chiropractic is a walk-in cash office. We do not bill insurance. We do not provide documentation, reports, narrative letters, disability paperwork, or records packages for auto-accident claims or work-injury / workers' compensation claims. If you need that kind of file, another office is the right place.

Alternatives

I may choose no care, rest, exercise, massage, medication from my medical doctor, or another provider.

My agreement

I have read this, had the chance to ask questions, and consent to examination and, if appropriate, manual (diversified) chiropractic adjustment. I can stop at any time. I am responsible for payment at each visit. If I choose the new patient special, the 2 free visits are the last two and expire 12 months from purchase. The card is nonrefundable and nontransferable. I understand this office will not prepare auto-accident or work-injury claim documentation.
